Busy night for city planners

Several large and/or possibly controversial items on July 15 agenda

'Liquor Barn' needs permit for former Blockbuster site near Safeway

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

A businessman from Redding hopes to locate a "Liquor Barn" store in the empty building formerly home to a "Blockbuster" video rental store. The building is located in the Safeway shopping center, fronting West Capitol Avenue just a stone's throw from West Sacramento City Hall.

Sales of hard liquor would require a conditional use permit from the city, as well as an appropriate permit from the state Alcoholic Beverage Control agency.

Owner Inderjit Grewal will ask the city planning commission for that city permit on Thursday, July 15.

"For almost everyplace in town, the sale of hard liquor requires a conditional use permit," said David Tilley, a senior planner for the city.

Tilley told the News-Led-

Massive solar project along channel's levee

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

West Sacramento's planning commission will be asked to approve a massive solar panel project on Port of West Sacramento property on Thursday, July 21.

The OPDE U.S. Corporation plans a 24-megawatt solar plant next to the west levee of the deep water channel, from extreme southern West Sacramento into unincorporated parts of Yolo County. The four strips of land will house about 1,920 solar trackers connected by overhead and underground wiring.

"Only about half the project is located within our city limits," said David Tilley, a senior city planner for the City of West Sacramento. "There are four sites, and they're going to put up about 1900 trackers. One of the sites is totally within the city, and one straddles the city limits. It's adjacent to the levee, not on it."

The panels will track the sun, so their height will vary. The arrays will be on top of pads, raising their height.

"The maximum height will be about 15 feet," said Tilley, "so at maximum height, they will be a little bit taller than the levee itself. At the four rectangular sites, they will all be in neat rows. Each site is about 35 acres or so."

Will someone living in the Bridgeway Lakes area be able to see the solar panels over the levees from the second floor of a home?

"If you have a two-story home, and it's oriented a certain way, it's conceivable you could see them if you have a view," said Tilley.

He added that he has not yet heard of any significant objections to the project.

The July 21 planning commission meeting begins at 6 p.m. on July 21 at city hall, 1110 West Capitol Avenue.

Other items on the agenda include a public hearing on a proposed city "green building ordinance," and a public hearing on a proposed "Career & Technical Education" charter school planned for the former Affymetrix building at 890 Embarcadero Street.

'It was arson'

Fire department believes fire at Broderick Christian Center had been deliberately set

Firefighters take on the blaze at Broderick Christian Center, 6th and Andrew streets, on June 27. The fire gutted the building, but generally didn't make it through the slate siding. (Courtesy of West Sac. Fire Department)

When fire broke out on Sunday morning, June 27, at the Broderick Christian Center, investigators immediately labeled it as "suspicious." The fire followed two nights in which the center suffered from vandalism attacks to its vehicles. Somebody had been slashing tires and smashing windshields on BCC's property.

Because the charity is church-affiliated, the federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco &

Firearms joined in the fire investigation, considering the fire to be the possible result of a hate crime.

Yesterday, the West Sacramento Fire Department told the News-Ledger that the cause of the fire has now been determined.

"We investigated, and we confirmed the fire was definitely started by an incendiary device," said Gary Fredericksen, a division chief of the West Sacramento Fire Department. "We ruled out all accidental causes. We believe it was an arson-type fire."

Arson was suspected immediately. But investigators noted that the fire seemed to begin near some electrical sockets and an air conditioner on the side of the building. So they did not immediately rule out that an electrical problem in the old building as the cause of the blaze.

Further testing has narrowed the options.

"We came up with the location it started, and we believe something was kind of stuffed up in the siding," said Fredericksen. It happens to be in a spot where the (surveillance) cameras don't watch, so it is likely someone who knows the facility."

The fire was reported at about 9:40 a.m. – in broad daylight. Could an arsonist have actually set the fire earlier, long before it finally broke out?

"It could have smoldered where it was, and eventually flashed," said Fredericksen.

An arrest has not yet been made.

The fire took out a building used as a day shelter and meal center for homeless people and low-income people. The facility is operated by United Christian Centers, and also includes a child development center and other services which are not affected by the loss.

Alvin Lewis, Jr., is executive director of Broderick Christian Center. He told the News-Ledger last week that, depending on a decision involving the insurance company, the building will either be repaired or rebuilt. In the meantime, services to the homeless have slowed.

A group of local churches has banded together to try to pick up the slack on those services. Users of the Facebook social site on the Internet can find the group by searching "Churches united for West Sac homeless."

Suspect in bank robberies: real estate agent from Dixon

A Dixon man was arrested for the armed robbery of West Sacramento's First Northern Bank on Harbor Boulevard last Wednesday.

At about 3 p.m., an armed male suspect entered the bank on the 1300-block of Harbor Boulevard and demanded money from a cashier, said Lieutenant DeAnna Stevens of the West Sacramento Police Department. He fled, but a dye pack in the money exploded, covering part of his body, and police caught him nearby. They also recovered the money and a gun.

The suspect is Hubert

Rotteveel, age approximately 47, a real estate agent in Dixon.

Lt. Stevens, in a press release, said he matches the description of suspects in three other recent bank robberies – two in Vacaville, and one in Woodland earlier in the same day of the West Sacramento robbery.

Media reports say the subject used a bicycle to get to and from the banks – possibly transporting the bike or bikes by truck to the vicinity of each bank.

One witness said Rotteveel bought a new bike just before last week's robberies.

Accused of East Coast murder

A West Sacramento man has been arrested in connection with a fire that left an adult couple and two children dead in New Hampshire in Keene, New Hampshire, in 1989.

David McLeod, 54, was living with his family on the 1900-block of Park Boulevard, where neighbors say he was quiet and a good neighbor.

At 10:30 a.m. last Wednesday, local police assisted New Hampshire State Police in arresting him on a warrant connected to the fatal fire.

According to media reports, McLeod had worked in New Hampshire at the time of the fire. His suspected motive in causing the fire is not clear, but the original investigators believed he set the fire at an apartment complex to get even with a girlfriend and the man he believed she was involved with. The two lived in different apartments in the same complex where the fire occurred. The four killed may have been accidental casualties. McLeod was

Thoughts on the passing of a '4th of July'

As I write this, another 4th of July is just around the corner, but most of the people I know don't seem to be in a very celebratory mood. And I guess you can't really blame citizens of this great nation for being a little less than thrilled about where this country finds itself on its 234th birthday. Everywhere one looks, there seems to be nothing but trouble and hard times. To begin with, we are fighting two overseas wars (at least our volunteer soldiers and their families are fighting them) and neither one of them are going the way it had been planned. And with the nation's economy still mired in the muck of seemingly endless recession, continuing to throw countless billions of more dollars away on them (not to mention the tragic human cost) seems like pure folly. But the politicians who got us into those wars continue to cling to the "just wait a little bit longer and we will come home with victory and honor" policy that gave us a dozen years of Vietnam not all that long ago. Don't those people ever pick up a history book?

In addition to a war that should never have been fought (Iraq) and another that history tells us can't be won (Afghanistan) and an anemic economy which can't produce anywhere close to enough new jobs to employ the millions of Americans who are desperately looking for work, we also can't seem to keep the Gulf of Mexico from filling up with oil from what is fast becoming the greatest environmental disaster in our nation's history. And not only are the dolphins and the turtles and the birds and an entire ecosystem being destroyed all along our southern coastal states, but so too is a way of life that the people of those states have lived since this nation was founded.

And two wars, a shattered economy, and the Gulf of Mexico with more oil in it than water only seems to be the tip of the iceberg when it comes to finding little to celebrate about on this 4th of July. There is also the fact that we don't seem to have the political will/courage to properly manage our borders and get illegal immigration under control; we refuse to get serious about the polluted air we breathe and the harmful chemicals that contaminate the water we drink and the food we eat; we can't seem to stop driving the gas-guzzling cars and trucks which make us slaves to foreign oil, an addiction that will only lead to more wars in faraway places not all that far down the road; and we are financially dependent on Wall Street, where investing your hard-earned money seems to be no different than taking it to Las Vegas and putting it all down on a craps table.

Here in California, we have yet another huge budget deficit that our politicians seem to be either unwilling or incapable of balancing and a governor who thinks the answer lies in paying all our state workers the minimum wage. But if I remember my college Economics 1A class correctly, the way you balance a state or national budget that is out of control is actually pretty simple – you cut programs and raise taxes – but our Democrats can't seem to bring themselves to do the former, and our Republicans keep signing pledges never to do the latter. And while that ridiculous dance continues, our state, counties and cities continue to melt down.

Anyway, I happened to mention to a longtime West Sacramento friend of mine that I was in the process of writing a pretty negative column this week about how there's not much for the country to be celebrating this 4th of July and he said, "No, no, you can't do that. Plus there are lots of things we should be happy about this year."

"Like what?" I asked him with interest. "Well," he answered, "for instance, we just elected ourselves the first black president in the nation's history, and considering the fact that the founding fathers of this country considered black people to be just 3/5th of a human being when the Constitution was first written, that's a pretty big deal. Plus those fools back in D.C. actually somehow

We don't seem to have the political will/courage to properly manage our borders and get illegal immigration under control; we refuse to get serious about the polluted air we breathe and the harmful chemicals that contaminate the water we drink and the food we eat; and we can't seem to stop driving the gas-guzzling cars and trucks which make us slaves to foreign oil. . .

passed the beginnings of real health care for all Americans, and Lord knows that's been a long time coming. Oh, and don't be forgetting that our Supreme Court will soon be overflowing with women and who would have ever thought that was possible? And most important of all, the last time I looked, we're still all free and in charge of our own destiny, and it don't get much better than that in today's crazy world."

"You know," I said with appreciation, "thanks for reminding me of all that. It's really good to know that at least one person I know is going to be having himself a really great 4th of July this year. How are you planning to celebrate it?"

"Are you kidding?" my longtime friend said with a smile. "My wife just lost her job, my kids can't even find part-time work, and our house is so far underwater that we all need wetsuits. So come the 4th of July you'll probably find me sitting all by myself up on the Palamidesi Bridge wishing the City of West Sacramento at least had enough money to put on a decent fireworks show like in the good old days!"

The 81st Major League Baseball All-Star game is set to go next week on July 13 at the home of the Anaheim Angels in Disneyland but and it looks like the Giants and A's again will not have a position player named to the roster. Every team must be represented at the Summer Classic so the National League manager, Charlie Manuel, has selected pitchers Tim Lincecum and Brian Wilson to his team.

In the American League Oakland pitcher, Trevor Cahill, who was found on the roster of Triple-A Sacramento, where he made two starts before being called upon by the big boys in Oakland to fill in for the injured Brett Anderson. Now, less than four months later, he's on the All-Star roster. The 22-year-old Cahill, in just his second big league season, was officially selected by American League manager Joe Girardi on Sunday as the A's lone representative for this year's Midsummer Classic.

Manuel has appointed San Diego Padres manager Bud Black and San Francisco Giants manager Bruce Bochy as the N.L. coaches while Girardi named Angels manager Mike Scioscia and Oakland Athletics skipper Bob Geren as the A.L. coaches.

How does a rookie like Atlanta outfielder, Jason Heyward, who batting .251 with 11 home runs makes the All-Star team especially after the Braves placed Heyward on the 15-day disabled list, retroactive to June 27, with a deep bone bruise in his left thumb?

In the American League, Joe Mauer is joined by Minnesota Twins with teammate Justin Morneau at first baseman, the Yankees landed second baseman Robinson Cano and shortstop Derek Jeter and Tampa Bay third baseman Evan Longoria is back and joined by Texas designated hitter Vladimir Guerrero and Texas' Josh Hamilton, Seattle's Ichiro Suzuki and Tampa Bay's Carl Crawford in the outfield.

In the National League, Jose Reyes of the Mets is at shortstop with teammate David Wright at third base and Chase Utley, who will be replaced by Martin Prado. Cardinals first baseman Albert Pujols and catcher Yadier Molina are back as starters in the Classic along with Marlins shortstop Hanley Ramirez, and Milwaukee's Ryan Braun, Los Angeles' Andre Ethier and Atlanta's Jason Heyward in the outfield.

NBA Free Agents

Rumor has it that LeBron James is considering playing for the Sacramento Kings! Of course, it's not true but I thought I start a rumor just for the fun of it. King James is being courted by his current team the Cavs but the Chicago Bulls, New York Knicks and Miami Heat are rolling out the red carpet and it's stuffed with cash.

Where is Chris Bosh going? Nowhere, because the Raptors are going to make him very wealthy but Dwayne Wade might jump ship and join LeBron in Chicago or maybe talk James into moving to the sunny beaches of South Florida. Amare Stoudemire made the first free agent move going to New York for 5-year $100 million so the dominos will fall soon.

Free agent Joe Johnson will stay in Atlanta and so will Dirk Nowitzki but Carlos Boozer and New York's David Lee will draw some interests. The only free agents wearing Kings Uniforms are Ime Udoka, Sean May, Dominic McGuire and Jon Brockman. Brockman is probably the only one that will return to Sacramento.

The Sacramento Kings will not be shopping for any big time free agents but they will field a team for the sixth straight year to compete in the 2010 NBA Summer League in Las Vegas from July 9-18 at the Thomas & Mack Center and Cox Pavilion. Sixteen players will be on the team, including veterans Donté Greene and Omri Casspi and the Kings' draft selections, DeMarcus Cousins and Hassan Whiteside.

Diamond Notes

At mid-season (182 games) the Giants (42-40) are in their usual June Swoon winning only their third victory in 13 games enabling them to gain a half-game on idle National League West-leading San Diego. San Francisco remains in fourth place, seven games behind the Padres.

Audrey Huff is hitting the cover of the ball and as of Monday is hitting .288 with team-high totals for home runs (15), RBIs (47) and OPS (on-base percentage plus slugging percentage, .899) but now the Giants pitchers are into a deep June swoon.

Madison Bumgarner was called up last week and is winless in two starts this season, he has pitched quite well. The key for Bumgarner will be to overcome the first few innings. Against the Red Sox, the 20-year-old left-hander gave up two homers and four runs in the first two innings before blanking them for the next five.

The A's (41-43) are still eight games behind the Rangers for first place in the American League West and their DL list continues to grow. While placing outfielder Conor Jackson on the 15-day disabled list on Monday with a strained right hamstring, the A's called up outfielders Matt Carson and Matt Watson from Sacramento.

A's All-Star Trevor Cahill won't be making an appearance at the Midsummer Classic on July 13 in Anaheim because the 22-year-old right-hander, who is 8-2 with a 2.74 ERA in 13 starts this season, is slated to start on Sunday against the Angels, making him ineligible to play during the All-Star Game.

River Cats

Sacramento has won nine of its last 11 games mostly because of the hitting of Matt Watson and Matt Carson. The two sluggers were called up to Oakland to help the parent team drive in some runs. Watson signed with Sacramento in late May and is now posting a .313 average and 23 RBIs in only 28 games with the River Cats, Watson will begin his second stint with the A's.

Oakland also sent River Cats All-Star Clayton Kershaw back to Sacramento after the right-hander's solid performance with the A's on July 3. The River Cats also added Jeff Baisley from the Double-A Midland RockHounds. Baisley, who scored a run and drew two walks in his 2010 River Cats debut Monday, spent the entire 2009 season with Sacramento.

The River Gatos will be back to Sacramento on Thursday for a four-game home stand against Portland before the three game All-Star break. The All-Star Game in Allentown, PA on Wednesday, July 14th.

2010 World Cup

The semi-finals are set for Tuesday with Holland facing Uruguay and Spain will try to break down the powerful German squad. The month long World Cup will end on Sunday, July 11th (11:30 a.m.) and I think the Netherlands will get into the finals against Spain even though the Germans are the best team and are working like a well oiled machine but sometimes the best team doesn't always win. I think the Spaniards are the team of destiny.

Enjoy your day – see ya next week!

tion with the shooting of another West Sacramento man on June 26. The incident happened at Arthur Drive and Cummins Way.

Officers responded to the report of that shooting at 1:58 p.m., and while responding, the 20-year old male victim arrived at the police department. He had been shot several times, and was taken to the UC Davis Medical Center, where he was reported on Friday to be in "stable" condition.

Police identified 20-year old Marcel Camarillo as the shooting suspect. They served a search warrant on his home on Friday, but did not find him. They did locate him on the 5400-block of El Camino Avenue in Carmichael and, working with the Sacramento Sheriff's Department, took him into custody without incident.

Further details were not available from the police department.

ger that his department will recommend against the permit when the issue goes before the planning commission. Members of the planning commission are appointees of the mayor and city council, responsible for making judgment calls like this one.

"Our recommendation is to deny it. If you count the grocery stores – Safeway and Raley's – then within 1.5 miles there are already eight other establishments that sell hard liquor," Tilley told the News-Ledger. "The police department, in their analysis of the project, noted that this area has the highest calls for service that are alcohol-related in the city. And there are already two other locations on this property you can purchase hard alcohol."

An attempt to reach Liquor Barn proponent Grewal for comment wasn't successful.

The planning commission last month denied a permit for Aggie Liquor & Deli to sell hard liquor (alongside beer and wine) at a planned store in Southport. The owner of that store has appealed the planning commission's decision, and the city council will listen to that appeal on July 21. Aggie Liquor & Deli hopes to locate at Jefferson Plaza, at Jefferson Blvd.'s southern connection to Linden Road.

The planning commission meets at 6 p.m. on Thursday, July 15, at city hall, 1110 West Capitol Avenue.

The plant at 3125 Industrial Boulevard would take in "retired" automobiles, steel from demolition sites, appliances and other metal sources. Metals will be recycled, and nonmetals will be "processed and reused as sanitary day cover in landfills," said a press release from the company.

The News-Ledger asked city senior planner David Tilley if the plant will resemble a junkyard.

"That's not how it's supposed to be," said Tilley. "They will bring in cars that have been pre-dismantled elsewhere. A crane will move the parts to a conveyor belt, much like conveyor belts operate in other operations at the port. The shredder will take these down to chunks about the size of your fist, and will also separate the ferrous (iron, which is magnetic) and nonferrous material. The whole shredder system is in a building. You'll see the conveyor, but you won't see the shredding itself."

Final products will then be shipped out.

"The vast majority will go out by ship," said Tilley. "A smaller amount will go out by train."

West Coast Recycling says it will invest more than $25 million in the plant and provide jobs for at least 60 people.

The public workshop on July 21 will be followed by a public hearing and possible granting of a city conditional use permit on Aug. 19, and a review by the port commission in September or October.

'Bogus' text messages

The Yolo County District Attorney's office is reporting a "rash" of fake cell phone text messages to Yolo County residents, designed to trick them into providing bank card or credit card numbers. According to Dave Edwards, enforcement officer at the D.A.'s office, the text messages purport to be from Yolo Federal Credit Union.

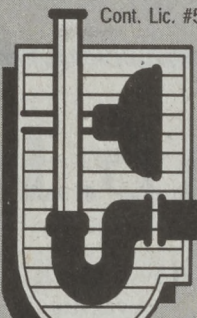

They aren't. They say that there's a problem with "Your YOLO FCU CARD starting with 4661," and that the card is "on hold" and the customer needs to phone the number provided. Such messages are known as "vishing" when sent out in mass numbers by scammers, hoping to trick a few people into revealing sensitive financial information. "The scammers attempt to appeal to the victim's emotions so the victim will quickly call back and provide sensitive and private information that will be used for future identity theft crimes," said Edwards in a press release. "Numerous" Yolo County residents have reported this scam, he said.

Similar techniques exist on the Internet, where scammers send out fake – but sometimes very convincing – emails purporting to be from banks or other institutions, trying to trick recipients into providing financial information.

Two possible cases of WNV

Residents urged to drain any standing water and take precautions against mosquito bites to avoid West Nile Virus

The Yolo County Health Department is investigating two possible cases of West Nile Virus, said county spokesperson Beth Gabor.

They are the first two potential cases of the mosquito-borne disease this year, and both victims have "serious" symptoms.

"Approximately 80 percent of people who are infected with West Nile virus will not show any symptoms at all," said a county press release. "Up to 20 percent of people who have become infected have symptoms such as fever, headache, body aches, nausea, vomiting and sometimes swollen lymph glands or a skin rash on the chest, stomach and back. Symptoms can last for as short as a few days, even though healthy people have become sick for several weeks."

About 1 in 150 victims can develop more serious illness, including a high fever, headache, neck stiffness, and other symptoms. People over age 50, along with diabetics and those with hypertension are at great risk of a serious case of West Nile virus, and should take special care to avoid mosquito bites.

The county health department urges people to eliminate standing water in their yards (they provide a place for mosquitoes to breed), wear protective clothing, and use a mosquito repellent that contains DEET or other effective ingredients. Mosquitoes are most likely to bite at dawn or dusk. Long sleeves and long-legged pants provide some protection. Mosquitoes should be prevented from entering the home by having door and window screens in good repair.

July 3, 9:05 p.m.

A woman on Arthur Drive said she had two full-grown "aggressive" pit bulls that she wanted to surrender. She was afraid they were a threat to her five-year old, and

July 4, 4:12 a.m.

GUEST COMMENTARY:

Dispose of coals safely, & think 'green'

Waste Management reminds everyone to be safe and green as the backyard barbeques and pool parties begin. Summertime activities can pose unique challenges to home safety, as well as trash disposal and recycling efforts.

"Just as those coals helped to get the fire started in your barbecue, they can also start a fire in your trash container – or once emptied into the back of one of our trucks, ignite the materials around it," said Justin Caporusso, Communications Manager for Waste Management, in a press release. "Coals that appear to be cooled can create an unsafe situation for you, your neighbors and your Waste Management drivers. Remember that coals can stay hot for hours or even days after you have finished using them."

Coals should be cooled for several days, and then placed in a metal container with a tight lid for proper disposal in your waste container. To speed up the cooling process, you may carefully place coals in a metal container full of water to "drown" them like you would a campfire. Remember: never place coals – even if you think they're cool – in plastic, paper or wood containers.

Coals or ashes fresh from the barbecue should never be disposed directly into your collection container or in your greenwaste container. When materials that don't belong in the greenwaste or

Letters to the Editor

Tree deserves protection

(Editor's note: the following letter is part of a continuing discussion about a large tree on Tower Street that is in the path of development. Opinions differ as to what kind of tree it is, and how old it is. See the News-Ledger, June 23.)

I waited to respond to your front page article regarding the huge tree on Tower Street until the third arborist report was available. It was released on Wed., June 30. The tree we hoped would be granted "landmark" status by City Council is identified as a "butternut" tree, as in the two previous reports, and not a Black Walnut, as Dale Payne remembers from his childhood back yard. His statement that "none of the nursery people would plant a tree like that" is in error. West Sacramento Conservancy has learned that this type of tree is valuable as "furniture grade" wood.

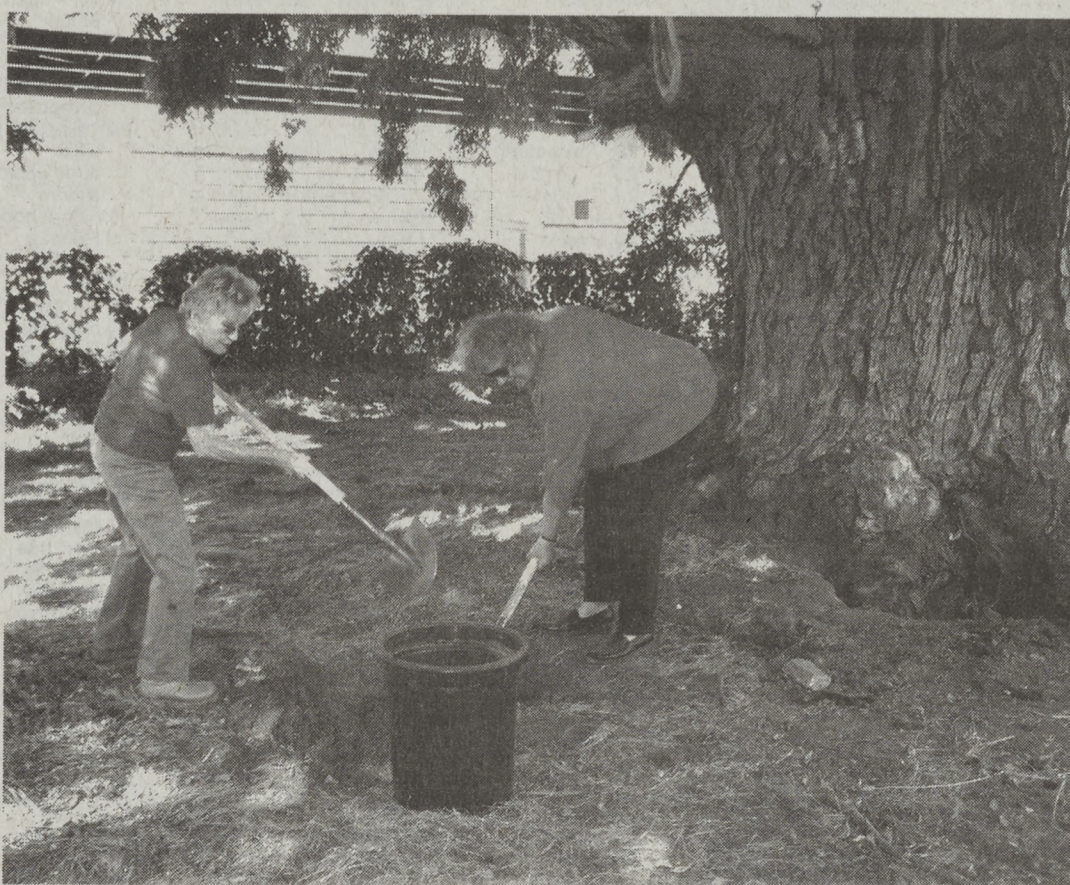

Its trunk size of 22 feet, 4 inches is larger than the butternut tree in Newport News, Virginia, which is on the National Register of Big Trees. Our tree's height and spread are currently being measured by an unbiased arborist for nomination to that registry, and to the California Register of Big Trees.

Unfortunately, City Manager Toby Ross has pulled the Landmark Tree item from the City Council Agenda for Wed. July 7. However, members will make presentations on the subject before agenda items are addressed.

The big surprise in 2010 is that Americans are becoming ing avid soccer fans because of the World Cup frenzy. For those of us who played soccer as amateurs back in the 30s and 40s from New York to Los Angeles there are signs that soccer is finally catching on here. As someone who played and loves the game I am hopeful that the sport of soccer will continue to grow in popularity and that our U.S. national team will improve at each World Cup. The excitement of the World Cup should make for millions of new American fans across the land for many years to come!

(Editor's note: the News-Ledger received several reminiscences about the Broderick Christian Center following the fire suffered by the facility last week. Here they are.)

Remembering the Center

The Broderick Christian Center held a special place in my memories. Around 1953 the little room left of the entrance was the community library. At the closing of the old Washington School at Third and C St, the library was transferred there. Mrs. Adele Washington was the librarian.

The main part of the Center was used as a church, Sunday school, and activity center. The first administrator I remember was Rev. Mitchell. Sunday mornings would fill the center with church services. For us younger ones we went upstairs in the back for bible study.

Our teen years in the 1960s saw the center more as a local gathering place. Half-court basketball games, a pool table and crafts upstairs. The center would organize hayrides, snow trips and camping trips. Sports activities would be coordinated with the Washington Neighborhood Center in Sacramento and the Lincoln Christian Center by Southside Park. MICKEY FAUSETT

BCC must continue

My mother and I attended the little wooden Baptist church on fourth street every Sunday and vacation bible school in summer. When the church moved to the new building (Broderick Christian center), I attended. It took me years to appreciate what a "Christian Center" was trying to accomplish.

the community, which must continue.

BCC: important

I remember going to the Broderick Christian Center at summertime during the mid-1950s and they would take us to Southside Park to swim. It was something I looked forward to with excitement because I knew I was going to have a fun day swimming and splashing the water with my friends. I look back on those times with fond memories and think how lucky we were the Center was in our community providing recreation for us. I am truly saddened by the fire of the Center and the impact it will have on the individuals who have relied on the Center.

LOCAL ITEMS

The Sacramento River registered 2 feet 6 inches U. S. gauge at the Southern Pacific bridge yesterday.

The fish season for river salmon closed last Friday after a very profitable season for local men who engage in the business. It was unfortunate, however, that just at the time when fish was most plentiful the prices were extremely low. Nevertheless there were several tons shipped from this point and much consumed in the Sacramento market. The Pankost fishery have now in cold storage about ten tons and has picked not less than two tons of salt salmon and a great quantity of shad.

Last Thursday in the seaplane N-10 Earl Pankost was a visitor as far south as Isleton, where he landed and returned to Washington by boat.

Last Thursday night Judge Barry heard the case of Leonard R. Garcia against Soladad Los Anos for disturbing the peace. The case was continued till next Wednesday. Garcia complains that his neighbor, Mrs. Los Anos, disturbs him by her violent language. She was convicted some time ago on a similar charge and paid a fine of $10.

Last Friday night several friends of Ruth Rickard surprised her at her home. There were 14 of the youngsters about her own age who, wishing her well, wanted to show her how much they thought of her, and in turn she entertained them beautifully. A general good time was had by the youngsters in playing games and music.

Mrs. R. M. Colclough has entirely recovered from an operation which she underwent in the Sisters Hospital last week for the removal of her tonsils. She is again able to attend to her household duties.

A new schedule has been adopted by Rev. Marcucci for services in the Washington Catholic Church and the Riverbank Church. Father Marcucci advises that mass will be said in the Washington church every Sunday morning at 9 a. m., after which there will be Sunday-school. Benediction will be at 7:30 p. m. every Sunday evening. During October the Rosary will be said every Sunday and Friday evening at 7:30 p. m. Mass will be said in Riverbank every Sunday morning at 10:30 a. m.

MANY GOOD POSITIONS
Are open to young men and women in the field of Railway and Commercial Telegraphy. Positions paying from $140 to $150 per month with many chances for advancement. The Railway Telegraph Institute of Oakland, Cal., will mail you free booklet how to enter the service upon application.

The return of Charles McClure and wife last Monday was the signal for the boys of the neighborhood to tender them the usual charivari which is never neglected in the case of weddings in this neighborhood. The youngsters made all the noise they possibly could and the newlyweds were forced to show themselves and stand for the entertainment which was promptly done.

The last heard from Mr. and Mrs. Fred White was from Modesto, where they were then on their way to San Diego to spend the remainder of their honeymoon.

Mrs. Flossy Grishy of Rutherford was a guest at the Peterson home for the wedding of Miss Peterson and Fred White.

Willard Pankost is suffering severely with a badly poisoned arm which became infected on September 20. He scratched his wrist slightly with a nail and then went to handling fish. Two days after his arm swelled to the shoulder, but medical attention helped to save it. The arm is now improving and he expects to be able to attend to his work in a few days.

FIREWORKS PLANT IN ASHES WITH WORKER BURNED TO DEATH

The fireworks factory owned by H. T. Holt in what was formerly known as the Cameron barn, near Fourth and Elizabeth streets, was completely destroyed by fire shortly before 11 o'clock last Friday forenoon. The loss which the owner says totals $5,000, was not covered by insurance.

James Penman, employed at the place, was severely burned by an explosion of unknown origin that started the conflagration, and was rushed to the Emergency Hospital in Sacramento. All the clothes on his body were blown to tatters by the explosion and he was wrapped in a sheet and taken for treatment in an automobile.

It is believed that spontaneous combustion was responsible for exploding a pile of fireworks near the point where Penman stood making paper caps.

Through the efforts of the volunteer fire department the flames were checked from spreading to nearby buildings. The fire fighters were headed by Davis Barry.

Penman was later removed to the Sisters' Hospital, where he died last Saturday as a result of the serious burns he sustained.

Holt has posted a sign on the fire hose reading, "Help wanted to clean out the fire hose; it may be needed again and if rotted out would be useless." Indeed several complaints have come to The Independent about the manner in which the fire hose is cared for. It appears from these complaints that the hose is rolled up after each fire without draining or clearing and must necessarily be injured by the stagnant water. Under conditions like this it will not last long and residents don't like to be assessed often for material of this kind.

A reunion of the Garber family was held last Wednesday at the home of Herman Garber on Second street. Those present at the family feast were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moke and daughter, Florence, of Pengrove; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dunlap, Oak Park; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wise, Sacramento; Mrs. A. Edenson, Oakland; Ed Butters, Rio Vista; Frank Butters, Stockton; Lem Butters, Mrs. Sarah Garber, Eunice Butters and Herman Garber, Jr., all of Washington. Mrs. A. Edenson accompanied her brother Edward to his home down river later in the day.

The Washington public school has now surpassed any previous record so far as attendance goes. There are now 238 regularly attending children with some classes overcrowded, and six teachers. The primary grade rooms are particularly crowded with 43 in one and 46 in the fifth and sixth grades.

J. G. Soule and wife are residents at the bay to be gone some time for the benefit of Mrs. Soule's health. They have taken apartments with the idea of a long stay and are using the family auto in sight-seeing trips.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Lee of Riverbank are spending two weeks in Colusa.

J. R. Newman is in Knights Landing for the week and expects to return to Riverbank Sunday.

Mrs. Etta McCullough is visiting in Dixon as the guest of her daughter.

BRYTE IMPROVEMENT CLUB WILL BOOST ITS HOME DISTRICT

Residents of Bryte decided last Friday evening to take such steps as would, for all time, rid the district of the onus of carrying two names, one for the Postoffice and one for the town.

This step has been in contemplation for some time and matured under the careful thought of the people.

There is no greater burden for any district than that of being known by several names, and no matter how poor one name may be it is better than several.

The Bryte Improvement Club was therefore formed last Friday night, and money and equipment on hand from the old Riverbank Improvement Club and the Community Council was turned over to the newly formed organization for use. These latter two civic bodies have not been functioning for some time and the new organization hopes to put over some improvements for the good of the township.

One of the first moves by the organization was the appointment of a committee to wait upon the railroad company to change the name of Riverbank to Bryte. The Postoffice name of the town is already Bryte.

The first and third Fridays of each month were named as meeting dates and the next meeting will be tonight.

Officers for the coming year named were: President, A. H. Childers; Vice-President, T. J. Sanchez; Recording Secretary, H. H. Lee; Financial Secretary, A. D. Trelor; Treasurer, Charles Noyes. Three Trustees named were Tom Collins, F. E. Murray and H. C. Bell. E. C. White was made Sergeant-at-Arms.

GAS WILL SOON BE AVAILABLE FOR HOUSEHOLD PURPOSES

Operating north of Davis along the State highway a great gang of men is laying the gas main to supply Woodland with a gas service that will be manufactured at Sacramento.

Along the county highway in the vicinity of the California State Rice Milling plant the trenches for the gas main have been excavated and the main was laid during the past week to the State highway at a point near the subway at Fifth street.

From officials of the P. G. & E. it has been learned that as soon as the main reaches the subway at Fifth street excavating will be started on the streets in Washington and the mains will be laid immediately thereafter.

This should make a supply of household gas available before the end of December.

Householders who objected some time ago to pledging themselves for a period of three years to use the supply are now more than anxious to get started using this modern convenience in their homes.

It will be a vast saving in fuel prices and in addition will reduce the hardships of household work very much, especially during the hot summer months.

A newspaper heading said the other day:

"Ad Club wants ball game gambling ended."

The Ad Club wants many things it can't get.

FONG, DRUG PEDDLER, FORFEITS $300 BAIL, MAY BE ARRESTED

Fearing a jail sentence for selling drugs Lee Fong, a drug peddler, arrested last Saturday by Roy Jones of the State Pharmacy Board, gave $300 cash bail in Judge Barry's Court last Wednesday, and promised to appear Thursday with his attorney to stand trial.

On Thursday morning he failed to appear again and his bail was declared forfeited.

Attorneys are now looking up the law to see if he may not be brought in with a bench warrant.

The evidence in the case is conclusive according to Jones, and Judge Barry will have no mercy on this peddler of narcotics.

The abnormal increase in the amount of narcotics used by men as dope since prohibition came has started an active campaign against the habit by the police of Sacramento.

"Out of town" has been many sentences and the shortest cut has been across the bridges to the right side of the river.

In the brush near the M street bridge the users found a home during the summer. There, too, the peddlers have been frequenting to dispose of their nefarious commodities.

Constable Buckingham has been active all the time and this paper has been backing him in his efforts. Arrests have been made and several sent to jail, while others have been ordered "out of town."

Justices of the Peace have served notices that fines will go no more. Jail sentences will be given and this may prevent, to some extent, the practice of peddling drugs.

But it is not alone in Sacramento that drugs are becoming the bane of the workmen. Throughout the State similar conditions prevail and it has been reported that there are 110,000 drug fiends in New York City.

At all times there have been some people who used drugs as stimulants. Now with prohibition of liquors many resort to drugs to satisfy a craving.

The drunkard may redeem himself. The uncautious may over-indulge, but it seems that after one dose there is no salvation for the drug user. He goes down, down, down, to the lowest habitat of humanity with no hope of redemption but death.

It is terrible to contemplate the destruction ahead and the peculiar part of it is that all classes are affected.

Two bank clerks of Sacramento are known to be drug users. One shoe salesman is a victim. These handle large sums of money and will not stop at theft to get their stimulants.

Prison does not cure the drug user. He returns from a jail sentence a dope fiend still.

The drunkard sobers up after one night and returns to his work, perhaps sick and sore, but without the damnable craving that never dies in the mind of the dope fiend.

Since booze went out fruit beverages have been in great demand.

Now the government finds that imitators are selling fake orange juice.

Strange the government hasn't found out that fake whiskey is being sold in every joint in the country.

Was it for "Christ's sake" or his own sake that a Presbyterian preacher, Rev. J. M. Skinner (very appropriate), preached a sermon last Sunday by wireless telephone?

It was intended the sermon should be heard by several operators in the neighborhood, but they became disgusted and "hung up."

recycling cart are placed there, the greenwaste or recyclables become "contaminated." Contamination can destroy an entire load of recyclables, quickly turning it into just another load of trash. Waste Management urges consumers to consider using lump coal made from invasive tree species or harvested from sustainable managed forests. Additionally, petroleum-free charcoal starter is available for purchase at many household discount and hardware stores.

"Trash contamination in household recyclables and greenwaste defeats the goals of our recycling programs, which include protecting the environment by conserving landfill space and helping to conserve natural resources," said Caporusso.

Here are number of tips to help you keep up with your recycling this summer:

Keep a separate container just for recyclables in a convenient place, such as the kitchen, laundry room or backyard. Make sure a separate container for trash is easily accessible for kids enjoying ice cream treats, art projects or water balloon fights;

When entertaining, be sure to provide a convenient receptacle where your guests can place their plastic, glass or aluminum beverage containers;

Make sure recyclable bottles, cans or containers touched by sticky hands or filled with food are rinsed before placing them in your recycling cart or bin;

Consider crushing aluminum cans to help save space while storing them;

Do not place plastic bags in your greenwaste cart and keep your yard clippings and other greenwaste free of food, animal waste or other trash.

"We appreciate our customers' continued partnership in helping to keep our community clean and preserving our natural resources by recycling," said Caporusso. "We also know summer is a fun and busy time, and hope these simple tips will help to keep recycling a priority."

Fourth of July parties are another great opportunity to show your patriotism for the planet. Here are some eco-friendly party tips to help you go red, white, and green:

Each year, Americans toss out enough paper and plastic cups, forks, and spoons to circle the equator 300 times! Using reusable dishware is always best, but if that's not practical, try to buy environmentally friendly, disposable tableware instead. Look for products made out of renewable and biodegradable materials like sugar cane and bamboo, or ones made from 100% recycled materials;

When entertaining, be sure to provide a convenient, clearly marked receptacle for recycling next to any trashcans. To be even greener, add a bin for food scraps that you can compost later;

Think locally when planning your menu. Shipping ingredients from another part of the world requires a tremendous amount of fuel. Look to your nearest farmers' market for in-season fruits and vegetables, as well as meat, eggs, and dairy products.

They're fresher, taste better, and are oftentimes priced the lowest;

Use aluminum foil instead of plastic wrap to cover and store food. Clean foil can be crumpled up and tossed into the recycling bin, making it the better option;

Scrap your traditional paper party invitations and go digital! Online evites are often free.

Encourage guests to car pool; it helps save time, money and the environment! Let guests know who else is coming from their area, and offer to put them in contact with someone who might be able to give them a ride, or might appreciate getting a ride from them.

"With just a little extra effort, California and Nevada residents can have a safe, fun and eco-friendly Fourth of July," said Caporusso. "We know summer is a fun and busy time, and hope these simple tips will help keep thinking green a priority."

NOTICE OF INTENT TO ADOPT AN ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT/ FINDING OF NO SIGNIFICANT IMPACT AND MITIGATED NEGATIVE DECLARATION

A joint NEPA/CEQA document consisting of an Environmental Assessment/Finding of No Significant Impact (EA/FONS) and a Mitigated Negative Declaration (MND) has been prepared for the proposed West Coast Recycling Conditional Use Permit No. 10-07 in the City of West Sacramento. The lead agency and sponsor for the proposed project is the City of West Sacramento.

The project consists of construction and operation of a scrap metal shredding and recycling facility at the Port of West Sacramento. Operations at the facility will include scrap metal sorting and scrap metal shredding, material separation and processing to extract reusable material, and stabilization of non-metallic material to make it useful as sanitary day cover in landfills. The vehicles that are to be shredded on site will already have been dismantled by other companies to remove vehicle fluids, tires, batteries, and reusable parts.

The proposed facility and associated equipment will be located at 3125 Industrial Blvd. The facility would be state of the art design, with modern emission controls, capture and reuse of rainwater, and efficient integration with Port and City utility systems. The layout and planned construction will facilitate new, internal Port roads and traffic routing for the future, relocated Port entrance. A maintenance building, office, and shop would be constructed within the lease area. Total building square footage would be approximately 25,250.

The project also includes design and construction of a new main Port entrance on Industrial Blvd.

The joint EA/FONS/MND concludes that with the implementation of recommended mitigation measures, there will be no significant adverse impacts on the environment. Copies of the document are on file in the office of the West Sacramento Community Development Department at 1110 West Capitol Avenue, 2nd Floor, West Sacramento, CA 95691 (916-617-4645).

Any affected or interested parties may submit comments to the Community Development Department no later than 5 P.M. on August 6, 2010. The West Sacramento Planning Commission will consider adoption of the joint EA/FONS/MND on August 19, 2010 in the City Council chambers located at 1110 West Capitol Avenue, West Sacramento, California, at 6:00 p.m., or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF EVA ESPINOSA MONTANOCASE NUMBER PB-10-90

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of EVA ESPINOSA MONTANO:

A Petition for Probate has been filed by Ernest P. Montano in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

The Petition for Probate requests that Ernest P. Montano be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.
